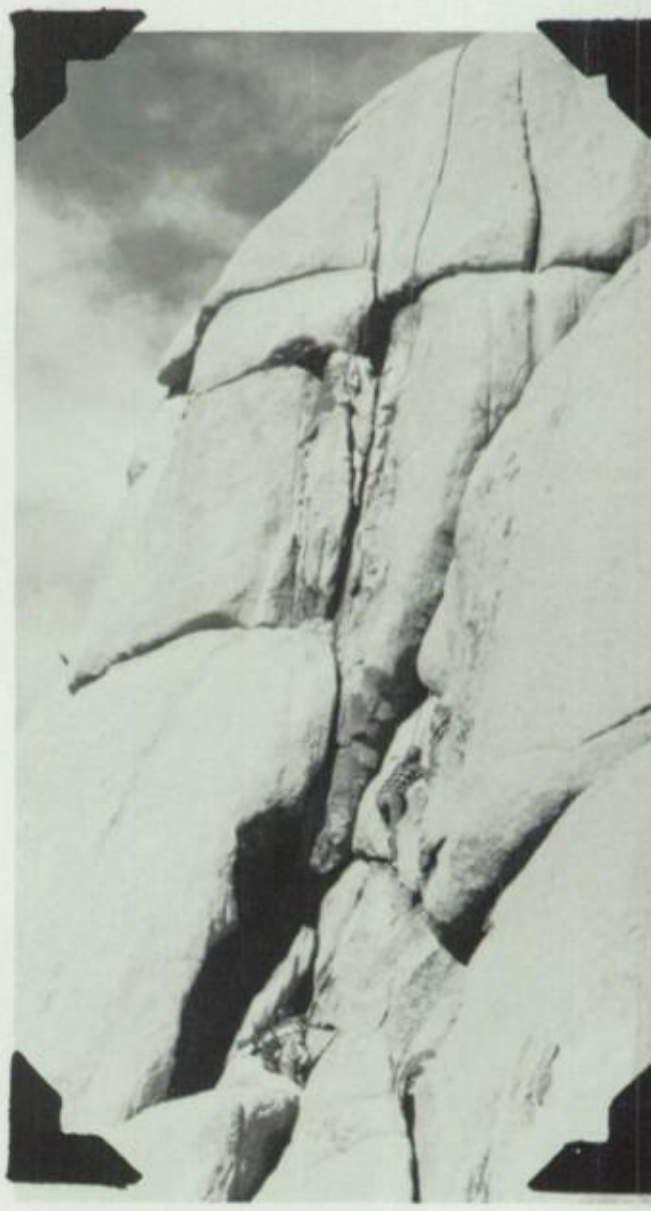
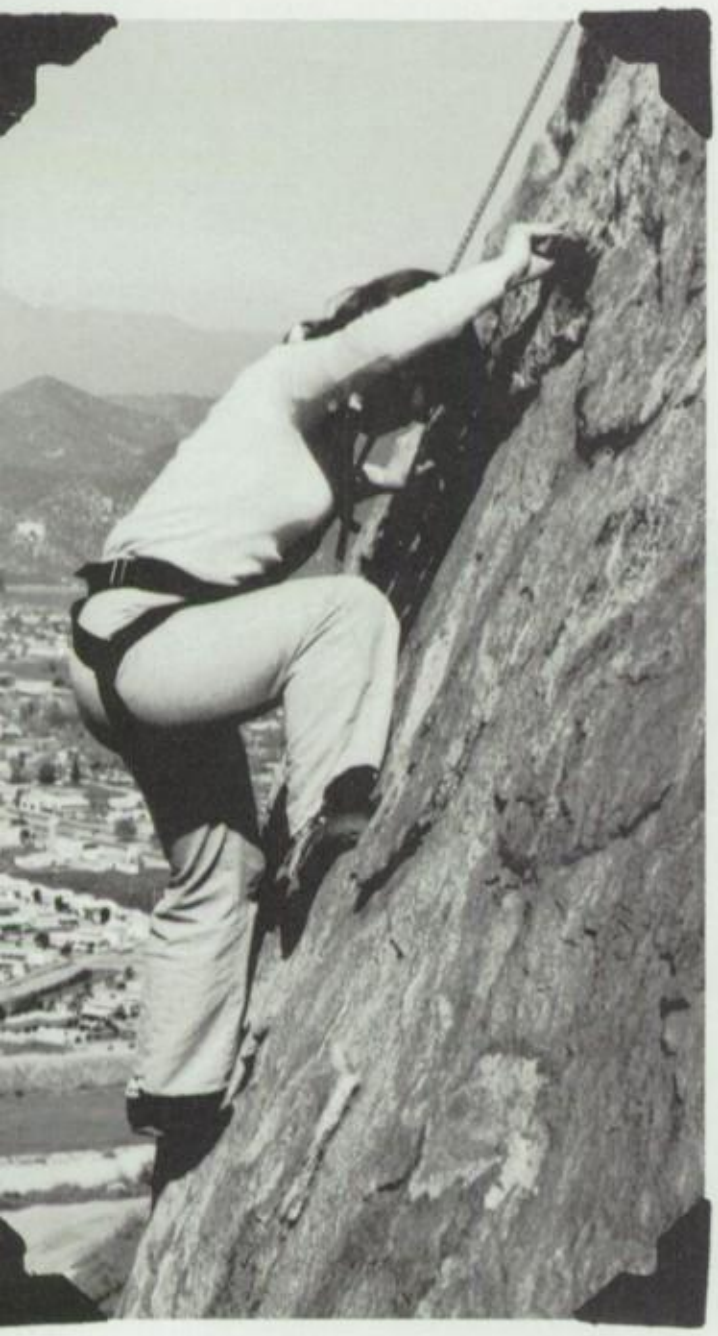
A Rockclimber's Journal

11537. S. Grovedale Avenue
Whittier Ca. 90604

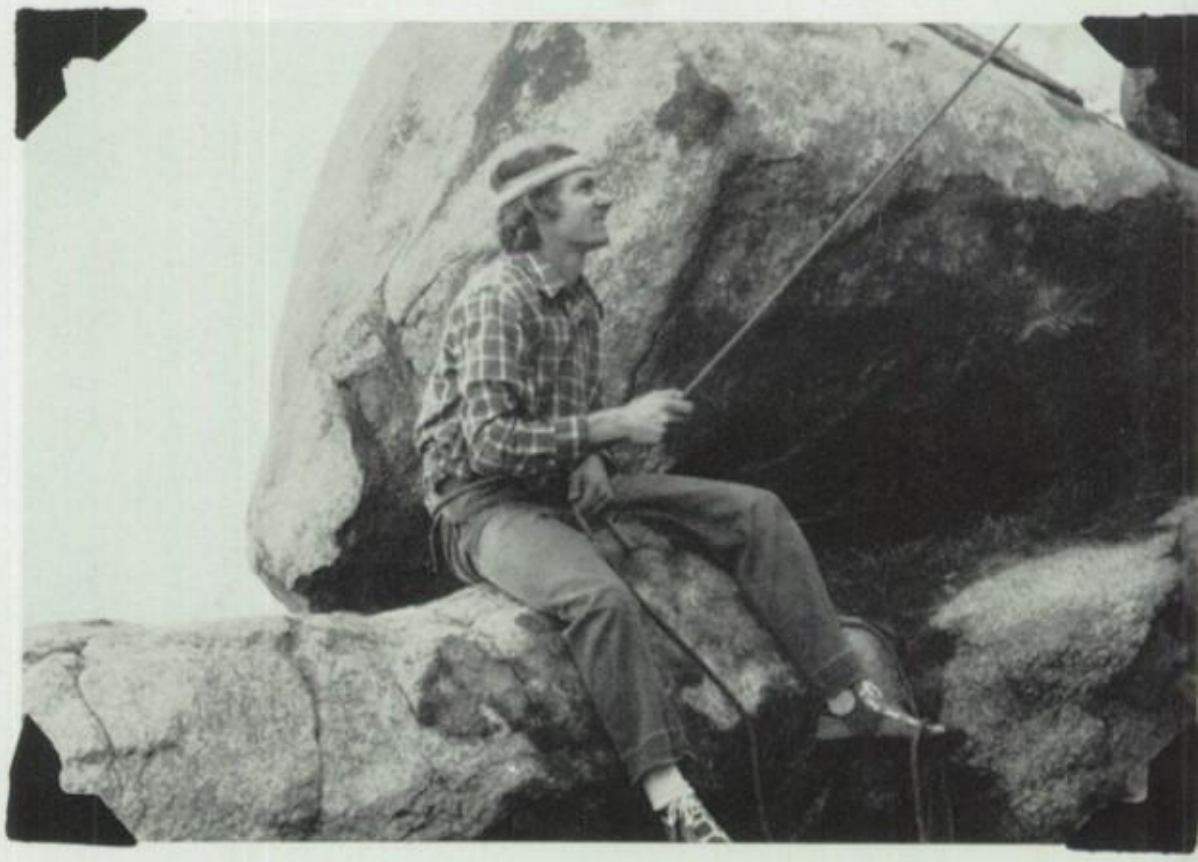
The sun crept over the mountains behind us and bounced off the smooth surface of the face in front of us. Several of the rough spots were still shaded and I smiled at the irony of this view. The smooth part looked so inviting and the rough part so discouraging, yet I knew from experience that it was just the opposite.

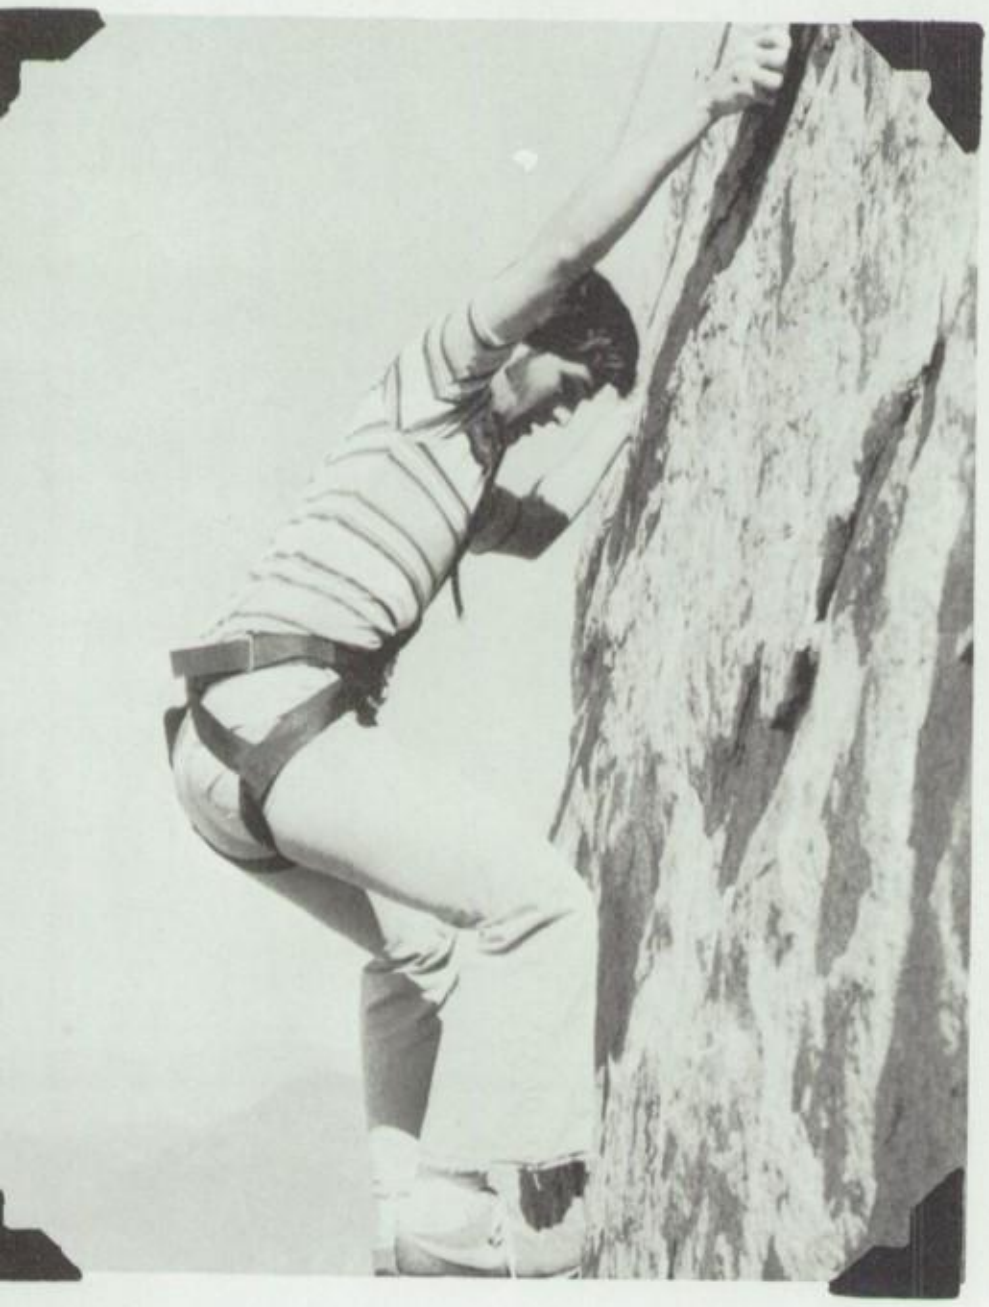




My fears vanished as the sunshine reached the lower part of the mountain face. I could feel its warmth on my back, and soon I was thoroughly enjoying myself as I fell into a rhythmic motion. This was climbing at its best.

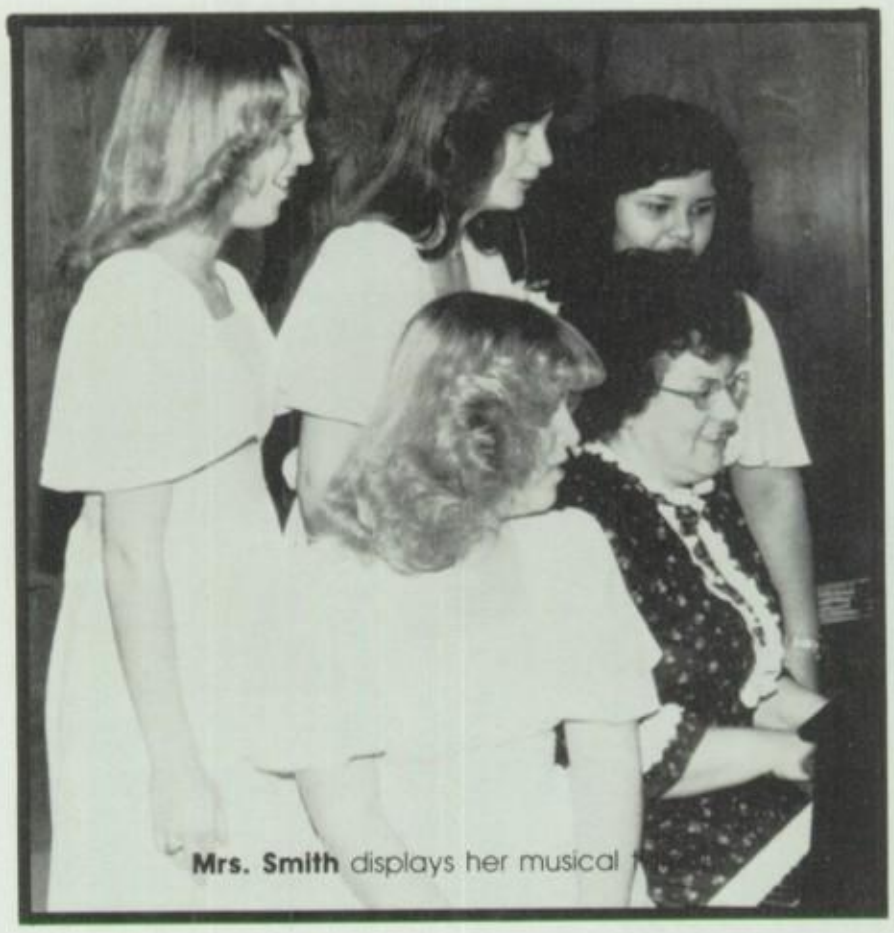
As long as I was moving all my fears and physical discomforts were forgotten. Yet while sitting on a ledge, struggling on a difficult pitch, or belaying my partner I could feel the pain and exhaustion creeping over me. But then once more I was climbing and I was lost in the joy of it. So this went on - resting, struggling, climbing again. Even so life goes on - a good day, a trial, sorrow another good day. As I look back on it now I forget the bad parts, but the good memories linger.





"Tension, falling!" My climbing partner yelled, I quickly pulled my brake hand to my waist and felt a jolt. "My foot slipped!" I heard him yell from somewhere below. I held him and yelled down words of encouragement while he rested and collected his thoughts. Suddenly it hit me. God is like a belayer. So many times He has broken my fall, held me and encouraged me.

THANKS, MRS. SMITH!



Mrs. Smith displays her musical t

Phyllis Smith has truly been an inspiration to the students at W.C. Her loving and caring heart has reached out and touched the lives of many individuals on campus and her efficiency in all she does caused motivation for diligence in many people. She assumed the job of choir director and has taught its members how to love and encourage others while they gained self worth. Mrs. Smith is dearly loved and for every "thank you" she receives, God is given all glory. It is due to her giving personality and our appreciation that we dedicate to Mrs. Phyllis Smith the 1979-80 TRUMPET.

The girls ensemble and Mrs. Smith lift their hearts to God.

DEDICATION: devotion to some work; to inscribe to someone as a sign of honor.

When she is rewarded, Mrs. Smith gives God the praise.

W. C. DIVIDES

W.C. had a new addition this year.
It was very ingenious, so lend me your ear.
Because of the increase in students enrolled,
our Grovedale campus was too small we're told.
So, the board thought and thought and planned with such care, when one of the members yelled, "I've got something to share!"
"The fine Maybrook school is vacant, I'm sure...
Let's buy it!" The members all said, "We concur!"
The bidding was over: the sale complete.
Mr. Mercer was heard to exclaim, "Super neat!"
September was coming, the school must be ready,
so day after day was spent working so steady.
Elbow grease, muscle-they both were required,
and finally, oh, what a change had transpired!
All was in order: each desk in its place.
Smiles of relief formed on everyone's face.
Teachers were ready for school to begin,
but kids rolled their eyes and sighed, "School?! Not again!!"
The Grovedale campus soon got in full swing, but the freshmen were faced with a different scene.
Where were the juniors, the sophomores, the crowds-the seniors who "dressed" them in garbage can shrouds?
It all seemed so different from what was expected.
Older brothers and sisters, they must be corrected-
the first day of high school wasn't so bad.
Mr. Mercer and teachers made them welcome and glad.
The number of classmates, although it was small,
brought a warmth and a unity between one and all.
Freshman class officers soon were elected-

Mr. Metzger and Mr. Mercer are "princes" among men.

Miss Converse lends Karin a helping hand.

I look forward to lunch and all I get is peanut butter and ketchup sand wiches!

IN UNITY

He's the kind of garbage man that throws himself into his work!!

the ones who would best represent were selected.
The students, together, built a strong and firm class.
Parties were planned and kids turned out in mass.
The structure was different with Chapel curtailed and to compensate for it, Bible prevailed.
Spirit was plenty and pep filled the school.
for cheerleaders, flagsters and Ogg, made a rule:
Although there was distance from the Frosh to Grove-dale,
games and excitement would reign without fail!
So each Bible class was considered a team,
and team competition launched off with a scream.
Soon all was perfect, the freshmen content,
Maybrook, it seemed, had been money well spent.
Meanwhile, Grovedale noticed a change.
Things appeared different with frosh out of range.
The freshmen were missed and the sophomores again were the youngest on campus, and basked in chagrin.
Mr. Metzger, the leader at Grovedale resided,
Prince Frank was at Maybrook and there he presided.
The teachers were driving to Maybrook and back while freshmen were bus-shuttled by Mr. Mac.
This whole new school system may seem complicated, but was simple when minds were on Him concentrated.
Through our Christian love, though we seemed far apart,
a bond between Maybrook and Grovedale did start.
Together we laughed and shared day by day,
for at WC it'd be no other way.
The love we've developed for every dear friend is a love that we know will last till the end.

168 Those Who Made My Climb Possible

"Good climbing and good company often go together, each is essential to the enjoyment of the other."

Tom Patey

One year... four years. The climb always moving upward. Sometimes it goes quickly and sometimes the top is not even in sight. Fun times at football games and Straw Hat, we radical things during pep week and te win pep rally competitions are all done with friends, most of whom are in the same graduating class. Through thick and thin a class sticks together-sharing many experiences From squirrely freshmen to "high class" seniors a class grows together, and if they enjoy each other's company and friendship the year will be that much better.

Diligence was a key to this year's sophomore fund raising activities. In order to raise the money for the 1981 Junior-Senior Banquet they participated in the Jog-a-thon and had a bike rally. Class president Daniel Adent, when asked about his classes' spirit, declared, "Although hidden at times I know we have spirit." The excitement of class rings helped to compensate for the classes disappointment of remaining the youngest on the Grovedale campus. All in all the officers gained a lot of experience as leaders and learned responsibility.

Vice President: James Gabriel

This was the first year Whittier Christian expanded its student body to another campus. The freshman class adapted well to this "campus away from campus" and settled down to their first traumatic year of high school. Class officers were soon elected. They set as their main goal the idea of drawing themselves not only closer to God but each other through carefully planned activities. The students worked together as a team in fundraising activities such as fruitcake sales and aluminum can drives to raise the money for these activities.

The junior class was challenged with many responsibilities this past year. One of these was to make the Junior-Senior Banquet original and successful. To complete their goal they raised $3,300 by saving aluminum cans, having paper drives and participating in the Jog-a-thon. The most important goals for the class were to grow closer to the Lord and be spirited.

We Are The Champions!

Seniors!
We are the best!
The first class in the 80's!
The first class to be at the Grovedale campus all four years.
The first class to be champions at powder puff all four years.
The first year in which our football team was CIF champions!
Our first year, we were united by the tragedy at the school picnic.
Remember alphabetical seating for chapel!
Spring elections for the first time and you didn't know who was who.
Saying good-bye to our first principal.
Our second year we got the Senior Rock.
Remember the Jog-a-thon,
Getting fenced in.
And getting a new principal.
Our third year, we fund raised for the Junior Senior at the Beverly Hilton Hotel.
We waited anxiously for our final year at W.C.
We watched our friends graduate.
We would take their place.
We began to make the school unique with our many crazy combinations of personalities.
Class of 1980!
We are the Champions!
We are the best!
Seniors!

ADMINISTRATION SUPERVISES TWO CAMPUSES

The privilege of administering the affairs of WCHS brings with it the responsibility of upholding the standards and purposes of our school and providing the leadership that will allow WCHS to exalt Christ and give quality instruction. God has graciously given to us an excellent administration staff; each has assumed the responsibility for his area of supervision which allows us to have a genuine "team effort" in the day to day operation of the school. It is our desire to establish and maintain a positive attitude on campus among faculty, students and staff. To do this we endeavor to be "good finders" and encourage each individual to develop his maximum potential. It is a great opportunity to be a part of WCHS and I constantly pray that God will bring each of us to make it the ambition of our life to seek after the righteousness of God.

The athletic department at WCHS offers students the opportunities of involvement in football, basketball, soccer, wrestling, cross country, track, baseball, volleyball and softball. "The philosophy at Whittier is to concentrate on best efforts. We believe that if individuals work toward achieving the best out of themselves, then our teams will be successful. If this goal is reached, Christ will be glorified by WCHS athletes."

Our athletic staff of ten received no new additions; but there were some outstanding additions to the training equipment. Through the Jog-a-thon and personal donations, approximately $10,000 was invested in weight-lifting equipment, a basketball jumper and a charging sled.

The Whittier Christian Bible department consists of six people teaching a total of eighteen classes, covering four different subjects. Our philosophy not geared to view the students as seminary students, but as average Christian young people whose knowledge and application of the scriptures is a vital part in the process of their spiritual growth. Our goal is to have the Bible classes set the pace for the spiritual climate on our campus by establishing a love for our Lord Jesus Christ and His wonderful Word.

"Expansion" characterizes this year's mathematics department. With two new teachers, the staff now totals seven. The most noticeable additions have been three Rockwell AIM-65 micro-computers. They are used as a learning center in the Advanced Algebra class and for independent study for Math 4 students. Future expansion will include computer programming courses.

The department believes that each student should be challenged to develop arithmetic competence and to expand his skills on a level compatible with his background and knowledge in mathematics. Consequently an entrance examination channels students into a Pre- Algebra, 1st Year Algebra, or Geometry class. The basis two year sequence in Algebra and Geometry is followed by studies in 2nd Year Algebra and Trigonometry. For students with intense interest in mathematics of outstanding ability we offer a course in Analytic Geometry. Some students are encouraged to enroll in a calculus course through a local college for college credit.

"Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that the things which are seen were not made of things which do appear." Hebrews 11:3.

The science department of Whittier Christian is privileged to study God's creation. We believe there is no conflict between science and the Bible since science is a study of God's work, and what God says and what God does always agree. In the Christian classroom we can bring these two harmonious concepts together and the student can learn more of our Creator along with the scientific data.

Without a doubt one of the most boring subjects in school can be history. At Whittier Christian we are committed to making it exciting, challenging and stimulating. We feel strongly that a proper view of history from a scriptural standpoint is absolutely essential to our understanding of human events in general.

Many valuable lessons may be gleaned from the past through the freshmen courses in World Origins and Modern World History. Telescoping from the broad to the specific we come to U.S. History with an Advanced Placement section in which "eager beaver" students may take an exam to receive college credit. Finally every senior becomes familiar with today's political environment via 20th century U.S. History and Government.

The Foreign Language Department has experienced quite a change in personnel from last year. Our two new additions are Mrs. Beth Day who teaches our French classes, and Mrs. Brown who teaches one Spanish class on the Grovedale campus on a part time basis. Mr. Goosen holds the fort in our German classes, while Mr. Ridenour has his hands full with six Spanish I classes on our freshman campus, and the upper division classes in Spanish are taught by Mr. Schrock. As a department we are working stronger in communicating the relevance of knowing more than one language. We are striving to bring our students to the level where they can communicate in the foreign language to the point where if they had the opportunity to share their faith with someone they would be able to do so.

Within the Business Department, Mrs. Joyce White and Miss Debbie Converse teach typing while Mr. Bob Brown heads up the accounting and general business courses. Several key audio-visual items were purchased to add to the department, including wall charts for the typing room, special transparancies for the accounting class, and a series of filmstrips and cassettes for the general business class.

Home Economics is more than a homemaking class where girls learn the "how to's of cooking and sewing." It focuses on five major areas: Clothing and Textiles, Foods and Nutrition, Child and Family Development, Personal and Family Finance and Interior Design. Microwave ovens, electric ranges and filmstrips were added to the department to make it better equipped and larger. The overall focus of the class is geared toward, "Whatever you do, do all to the glory of God."

"Pitch followed pitch, through deep chimneys and over great boulders jammed in the bed of the gully. We were now climbing with real enjoyment, carefree in our confidence that we would soon be at the top."

Rappeling, falling into the rhythm of a good climb, meeting a challenge successfully, nearing the top. These are some of the times when a rock climber enjoys himself. Just as a climb, a school year has its highlights. The school picnic, the Spring Banquet, the Junior Senior - each activity bringing joy and leaving good memories.

It was a bright and sunny morning on the twenty-sixth day of September, 1979, when the school picnic took place. Spirit climbed high in anticipation as first period class competitors made their way by foot to Parnell Park. After a brief xplanation from Mr. McIlhenny the real competition began. It consisted of various games such as the tricycle race, the obstacle course, and the innertube relay. Following the earthball battle between classes, everyone made a dive for their lunch bags. After lunch were devotions given by Mark Strom, Debi Curtis, and Scott Varco. The drill team, flagsters, tall flags, and cheerleaders provided excellent entertainment for the students. The day ended appropriately in a watermelon feed.

High expectations filled each student as they flocked into their classes and awaited the start of the annual Christmas Party. No one was disappointed. There were movies consisting of Laurel and Hardy and W.C. Fields, and enthusiastic games such as "Make me laugh" and "Simon says". The students were then entertained by a spirit-filled pep assembly, unforgettable skits, and personal testimonies from fellow students. The day came to its climax with the singing of Bob Ayala, who was heartily accepted by all.

The play's dramatic Christian statement emphasized how Anne Frank found love and security in an omnipresent God during a time of great persecution. The cast rehearsed four nights a week for almost two months, and with the help of people who went above and beyond the call of duty, the result was good and the play ran smoothly. 675 to 700 people viewed the production and it was as well received as it was performed.

Cheerleaders show their excitement for Twin Day.

Coaches' participation, class competition and a variety of skits were just a few of the events during this year's pep assemblies. With a goal of arousing spirit, this year's cheerleaders led pep assemblies on two campuses, a responsibility which doubled their assignment. Despite the added task, they responded with unusual energy and performed with enthusiasm. The most memorable assembly was undoubtedly the replaying of highlights of past games to the song "NFL Today". Mark Strom, as Mr. Oswald, evoked howls of laughter from the crowd with his insane antics.

The theme for the night was "That's Italian," and couples had a chance to get to know each other better through the "Newly-date Game." Each winner received a record for their effort. Everyone enjoyed the sounds of Gospel Seed and went home with a memorable experience behind them.

"We couldn't have been more different in personality. Where he was cautious I tended to be impetuous... yet once we got on to a mountain we became a complete team, a single smooth functioning machine."

Once upon a time there were seven cheerleaders who yelled loud and raised spirit on the campus of Whittier Christian High School. They got the principal so excited that his hair fell out. Their task of supporting school teams was accomplished through posters, pep rallies, and much practice. They strove together in fun and prayer to build unity. They became a very successful squad and cheered happily ever after.

Charissa: "Do-wop, do-wop!"

Sheri: "You've heard of lemon drops, well, this is a knee drop."

In the same kingdom of the Jolly Joan Ogg lived the JV cheerleaders. They strove towards squad unity and perfection and would frequently be seen practicing the motions of their cheers as they walked down the halls of Whittier Christian. They cheered enthusiastically at games and supported their school with zeal. Phil.2:1-2 encouraged them towards having a steady relationship with the Lord, and Prince Mercer looked on all their works and said they were good.

The fabulous flagsters had much more responsibility this year than in previous years. Their job was to twirl behind the cheerleaders at football games and pep assemblies and to promote spirit. Behind the scences they decorated locker rooms, busses, and went places together as a squad. Their goals were to promote school spirit, to support the athletic teams, and to be good representatives of Whittier Christian and God. Because they were a smaller squad, they had the ability to grow together socially and spiritually.

HOMECOMING COURT ENJOYS MEMORABLE MOMENTS

Homecoming, 1979, was a night of joy, laughter, tears, thrills, surprises and suspense. The junior varsity football team set the mood of the evening with their victorious game. Excitement buzzed through the crowd as the princesses Penne Philips, Joy Ranson, Julie Wood, Kym Mahoney, and Debi Curtis rode by and were escorted across the field. Cheryl and Joanna Caffrey presided at the crowning in place of their sister, Chris, last year's queen, who was unable to attend.

The football team topped off the evening in pride with their overwhelming victory of 28-6.

Despite the rookie at the helm, the student council performed with utmost precision and confidence. The indefatigable advisor, Mr. Mac, exclaims, "In the 47 schools where I've worked, never have I seen a group of students with so much responsibility come through with such conscientious consistency."

To begin the year both the Big-Little Sister Party and the all-school picnic were a smashing success. Other events continuing the high tradition of originality and spiritual refreshment included homecoming and its alumni reception as well as the Christmas party, complete with a brisk evening of caroling. Spring Semester was filled with still more activities like the Father-Son Barbeque, the Mother-Daughter Tea, the Sadie Hawkins Party, and the completion of the phone address books. Probably one of its crowning accomplishments has been the organized and conducting of perhaps the most challenging and inspirational chapels the school has ever had. Truly not since the infamous London blitz have so many (639 to be exact) owed so much (millions of hard working hours) to so few (14 precious council members)!

Through my life and my responsibilities, God has taught me to view my problems as opportunities. Many times He brings things my way which block my path of progress and cause me to get worried and upset. At the time, I don't understand why He has done it, but now I realize that He is using those trials to teach me patience and build endurance.

God is so good! When I feel like giving up, He is always there to help. Sometimes putting me through trials is just His way of causing me to draw closer to Him for strength. One of the most comforting thoughts during these times is in Psalm 121:1-2 which says, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth." (KJV)

I hope that each one of you will begin to see your trials as opportunities and dig into His word to find the abundant promises He has just for you!

Too, I want to thank each one of you for playing a special part in my life. I'll always remember these four years at W.C. as being the best years of my life. God has blessed me so much through your friendship!

"We're here to win!" was the motto of the 1979 varsity football team. Under the superb coaching of Head Coach Tom Caffrey, the Heralds finished an exciting season with an overall record of 10-3-1. "The victory over Valley in the final six seconds was the turning point for the team," said Coach Caffrey. Team spirit was good all year and they showed a lot of character coming back after losing the first two games. The Heralds advanced all the way to the finals in C. I. F. and climaxed the season by completely dominating an excellent Mojave team, 40-14. The Varsity team of 1979 achieved success by becoming the C. I. F. Inland Conference Champions, for the first time in the history of the school.

WAY!

Never has it been done before in the history of W.C. in any sport! Our incredible J.V. football team has set a record. For the first time ever our team has gone through their entire season absolutely undefeated. Coach Ortega built a team unity through tough circumstances and led them on to victory. With Coach Ford gone, strong leadership, which was a vital necessity, was provided not only by the coaches, but also by older players such as Adent, Sweetser, and Zug. Many fine freshman took leadership upon themselves when it was needed. The goal of the team?-to play to their fullest potential, and they did.

VARSITY BUMPED UP TO OLYMPIC

Change was characteristic of this year's varsity volleyball team. Feeling confident, they moved up to the strongly competitive Olympic league. To meet their competition they played with a new and effective offense which led them to a fourth place finish. Always keeping "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me" (Phil. 4:13) vividly in their minds, they displayed a "never say die" attitude in all situations. The Heralds were fortunate to place three girls on the all-league team. Sharon Burleson made first team and Dorene McCoy and Kathy Thomas both made second team.

Dorene bumps towards the winning point.

HERALDS "WIN FOR HIM"

Always having a "Let's win for Him" attitude, the J.V. volleyball team demonstrated constant teamwork and hustle, and were rewarded with a strong third place finish in the competitive Olympic League. Led by captains Tammy Cory and Rita Bonilla, the team exhibited a good mental attitude towards each other on and off the court, holding prayer meetings and sending encouragement notes on game days.

Although this was the first year for a freshman volleyball team, they finished co-champions in the league, proving they weren't a team to be reckoned with. Always stressing teamwork and togetherness, Coach Searcy's goal for the team was to always give their all and play their best in games and in practice. One of their most exciting games was against Ontario when they came from nine points behind to win the game and the match.

The 1979 Herald cross country team had two main goals, an achievement goal and an attitude goal. The achievement goal was to win the Olympic League championship for the fourth consecutive season and to reach the CIF finals. The attitude goal was harder to measure; it was the expressed desire of the veterans to establish a unity of spirit and purpose. Senior captain, Bud Bernor, was the team leader in both goal areas. From the time of altitude camp in August to the finals in November, three things were obvious about this team: They were talented and dedicated runners; their madcap antics were everpresent to enliven any practice; and their love for the Savior made them champions on and off the course.

From the beginning of the season it was seen as vital that the nine junior varsity cross country team members be viewed as one with the varsity. The J.V. provided support and encouragement and juniors Greg Settelmayer and Steve Hale ran at the varsity level in a number of races.

The J.V. team was a power in its own right as they won the Olympic League championship for the second consecutive year. Achieving All League status were Greg Settelmayer, Steve Hale, freshmen Jim Holtz and Ron Wilch, and sophomore Sam Zug.

Riddle has a shot for the goal.

Strong unity, of which Coach Schrock said he could not have asked for more, a "never quit" attitude, and all-out effort in the games brought a successful season to the 1979-80 varsity soccer team. It was successful because they achieved their goals - both spiritual and athletic. These goals were to use the game of soccer to grow as Christian athletes, to glorify God in their actions and to make CIF play-offs. But most importantly, they learned to give God the glory and credit for their success.

The 1979-80 junior varsity soccer team performed to a different beat this year. The team was blessed with two fantastic coaches that really took pride and effort in the team's production. Practices were often strenuous as Coach Barkley and Coach Wyma love sprints, but it paid off in the games. The team went out on the field with more confidence and preparation than ever before. Prayer partners were introduced to the team in order to keep God number one in their attitudes and performance. There was much improvement in individual players as well as in the whole team.

HERALDS ATTAIN GOALS

"I feel that the most significant factor in the performance of my team this year was the hard work of the individuals who gave their best effort. They were motivated by many things—the greatest was being able to be in the team picture at the end of the year. We were brought together as a unit by our motto for the year: "Onward Christian Soldiers". The spiritual atmosphere was great this year because we were priveleged to have the school chaplain in our locker room for every game. Over the course of the season we improved and didn't... and then did. The highest compliment I give to my team this year was achieving their ultimate goal in having their picture in the 1980 Trumpet."

The junior varsity team got off to a slow start this season, but by striving to obtain their goals, they finished it by playing some good aggressive basketball. Captains Curtis Fritz and Mike Milton led the team throughout the season and by everyone encouraging one another and spending six days a week in practice together, they became a close unit. One of the highlights of the season was being able to finish the season on a winning note in the final game against Western. Coach Underwood said, "I enjoyed watching young men who had not known one another well, become friends and care for one another. I was proud of our kids for not giving up and working hard from the first day through the final buzzer of the season."

The ultimate goal of the freshman basketball team was to bring glory to the Lord by the way they played and through their words and actions on and off the court. Measuring their success in reaching this goal was very difficult, but they felt that the Lord's name was glorified throughout the season. A second goal was to win another league championship. Coach Brown commented, "In this goal we fell short, yet do not view the season a failure because of our win-loss record. Both the wins and losses were vital in helping us to learn and apply the truth of Cor. 12:12-26, our team passage for the year." Development of the team unity grew throughout the season as they learned the importance of each individual member to the well-being of the entire team.

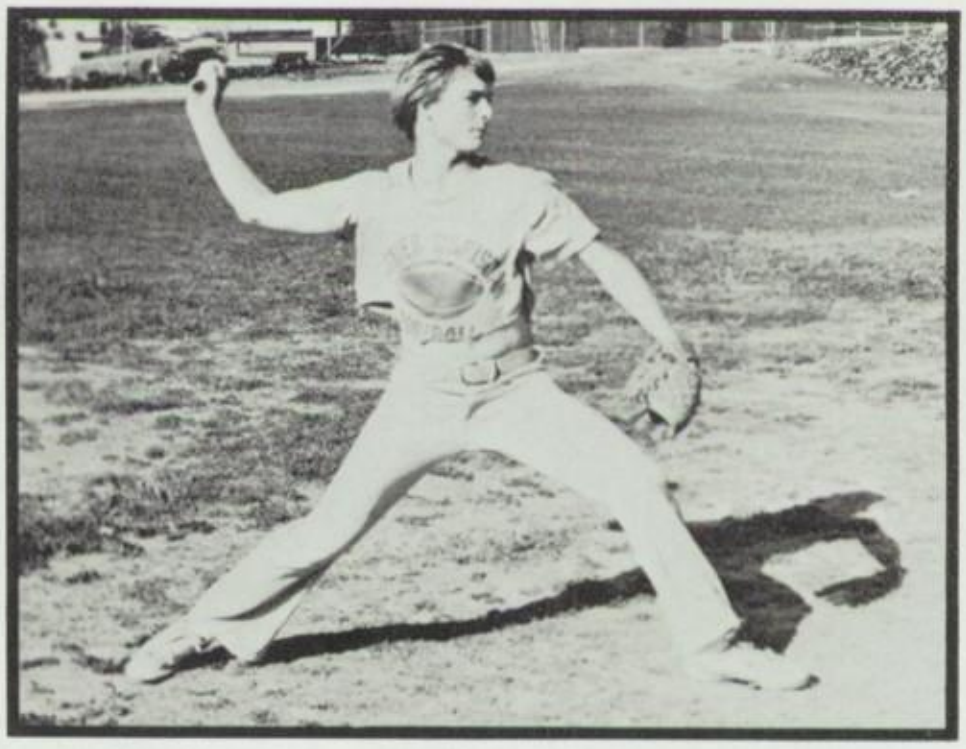
As a result they developed their skills quickly and really enjoyed themselves. Dan Bohling volunteered his time to work with the j.v.'s and added a lot to the program.



Kevin exhibits quality pitching.

At the beginning of the season Coach Adent remarked, "If these young men continue to develop in skill and attitude, their potential could bring them the J.V. League Championship." His desire was to give the players a good foundation in baseball skills in order to prepare for varsity. The season was used as a laboratory situation where they could "put to practice" what they had learned in Bible class concerning Christian behavior.

The athletes who gained most of the points for the team were Mike Smith (long and triple jump), Gary Hartung (120 high hurdles), Chris Acosta (two-mile) and Bob Oeh (shot put). It's by encouraging and supporting each other, while both on and off the track, that their unity is strong, despite the fact that track is an individual sport.

THE REST

At the onset of the season, Coach Ruhe stated, "With a squad of over thirty girls we are anticipating an exciting season. The team is young with only four seniors on it but we expect to be competitive." The girl's track team began the season with a win over Western. They anticipated success with several girls competing in CIF. Keeping Philippians 2:1-5 in mind, the team strove to have "the mind of Christ" as they worked towards developing maturity both in their running and in their relationships with each other.

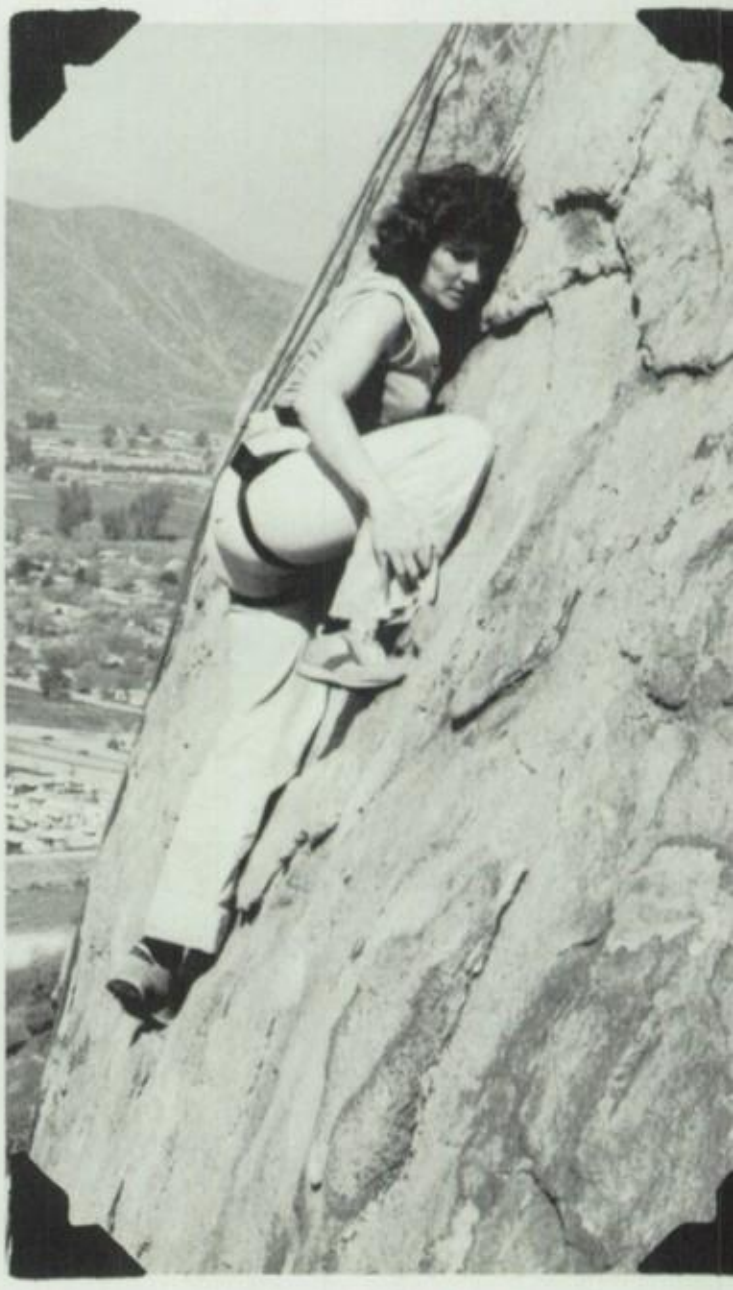
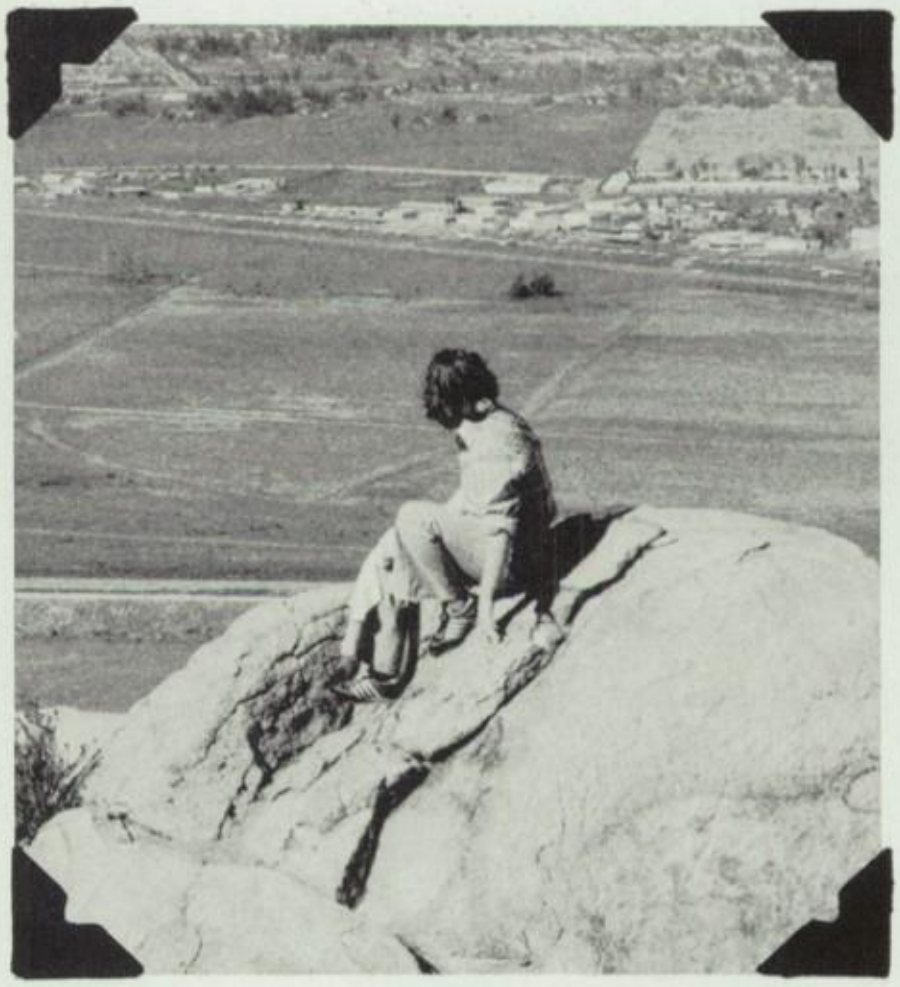
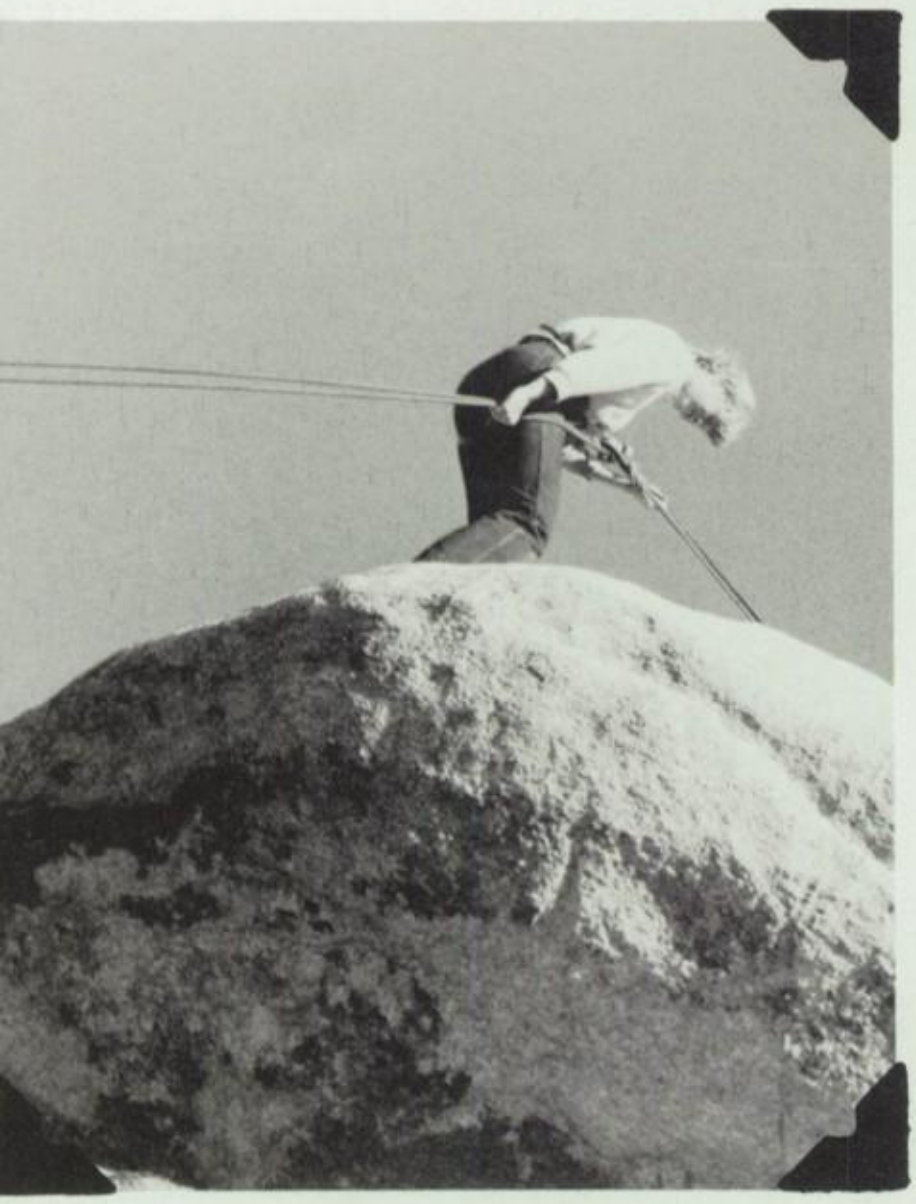
Tammy: "So I said to the guy, 'Guy.'"

Debbie: "What do you mean I'm doing it wrong?! I made it up!!"

As I fought for a hold I felt as though my fingers would give out and that I would have to do the splits to reach a good foothold. As I stretched, my fingers started slipping and I had to put my whole weight on the rope for a second. The rope and the belayer held me and I was able to reach a small ledge. At that moment I was reminded of how much I need to depend on God in that way.







I have reached my goal, the top. I have struggled, cried, laughed and learned. Some might say I have reached the ultimate goal, but as I stand here taking in the beauty and majesty of the surrounding mountains, I wonder. What next? I now realize that there are many more climbs ahead of me. Many more peaks to reach, and each summit higher than the last. Yes, I have come to the end of this climb, but in front and above me lies a vast range- beckoning and challenging.

To Sis:

Not so long ago, about 17 years,
I was waiting for news,
you might say I was all ears.

Then suddenly my head started to swirl
when the doctor came in and said "It's a girl!"

As the years have passed by I've enjoyed my little gal, and have given you nicknames like "Tressy", "Sissy", "Midge" and "Mrs. Pal".

I have watched you grow in wisdom and grace and can see God's love in your angelic face;

But the one thing that's the neatest and that sets you apart
Is that Jesus is your Saviour and He lives in your heart.

You've never been shy nor reluctant to say that Christ is the answer and the only way.

It makes me so proud, happy and glad when someone identifies me as your Dad!

Love,
Dad

Dear Kymberly,

It seems like just a moment ago that I held you as a baby and heard someone say, "She'll be grown before you know it", and I would smile and in my heart think, "sure, sure." BUT IT'S TRUE! You have grown up and it does seem it was "before I knew it". Along those stepping stones of growing up there were the "wise words of wisdom" as to what each new stage would bring, but those words of wisdom weren't true - you didn't become a "terrible two", a horrible Jr. Higher or any of the others in between. The only change in you during the growing up years has been that you have grown dearer and sweeter and this can only be because of your love for Jesus and that you've let Him completely direct and control your life.

My heart is so full of things to share with you that I really don't know where to begin. We have experienced so many wonderful things together as a family and such a closeness as mother and daughter. I know you are aware of how much I love you, but I'd like to let you know how important you are in my life - you are not only a very special daughter, but you are also very special to me as a person. God speaks to me through your life and your wisdom so often (more than you know, I'm sure). Since you were born the greatest desire of my heart and my deepest prayer for you has been that you will always keep Christ first in your life and that you will never stray from His side or His will; that way, you'll always receive His best for you as you allow Him to guide and use you. Only as you keep the line of communication between you and God open can you continue to be used of Him in other's lives.

I love you, Honey, and I feel so blessed that God is sharing His very best with me by allowing me the privilege of being your Mother - you are such a joy and an inspiration.

Love,
Mother
(The Mahoneys)

Our dear daughter Penne,

Well, it's finally arrived- graduation from high school. Being the last of our three children, you hold a special place in our hearts. We have always loved you best because while endings are generally sad, you are such a joy. You are the one we held onto so tightly. You are the link with our past, a reason for tomorrow. You quicken our steps, square our shoulders, restore our vision and give us a sense of humor that maturity and durability can't provide.

And so, dear daughter, at this thrilling occasion, we congratulate you. Keep your high goals that the Lord has given you. May you continue to spread joy and happiness in the lives of those you touch. As you continue to work toward your goals, to be that medical doctor or to get married, and when your own children tower over you, you will STILL BE OUR BABY.

To our son Nick,

So many times we questioned why our Lord had not given us children; and then He sent you into our lives, and that question was answered.

Little did we know of the real joy that parenthood would bring to us. Adoption is God's "special way" of bearing children.

Inside, we feel an overwhelming sense of joy which you have brought our lives. Proud you have made us when, from a sad beginning to your life, you allowed Jesus Christ to enter in and control you.

You have been rewarded for your submission to the Lord by possessing very worthy fruits: large is your heart, loving is your gentle spirit, slow are you to anger, kind are your words to others.

You have reached the point in your life we, as a family, have worked for. It's been a long time coming, and there has been victory and growth in its trying times, and joy in the happy times. You are the 1st Loera to graduate knowing our Lord Jesus Christ. Congratulations!

You now are embarking on a path which God chose for you many years ago. The field of criminology you will pursue is one in which God will richly use and bless you in because the Holy Spirit controls your life.

Always remember late night talks and prayer together and three important things: you possess the power of Jesus Christ, you are loved so very much by us, Phil. 4:13 says "I can do all things thru Christ who strengthens me."

Once there was a door that remained locked and only you had the key. Now, "Praise God", you have unlocked that door and we are filled with love and pride.

We remain your loving and proud

Mom and Dad

Dear Deborah Joy,

Your middle name describes what you have been to us - joy!

As you go through life we pray that you may have great joy as you choose God's ways, and that you will bring joy to others as you share Christ and your life with your friends.

Psalms 37:4, 5-"Be delighted with the Lord; then He will give you all your heart's desires. Commit everything you do to the Lord. Trust Him to help you do it, and He will." (Living Bible Paraphrased)

Congratulations!

We love you dearly,
Dad, Mom, Tim, and Cheryl

Congratulations
